TORONTO NATIVES WIN STINGER AWARDS

Four Toronto natives were honoured recently by Concordia University of Montreal, for their hockey achievements over the past season.

Goaltender Dan Burrows, a former Belleville Jr. A star, was voted "Freshman Athlete of the Year" for accumulating the best-goals-against average in Canadian University hockey. Defense-man Mike Walker, a former Richmond Hill captain, was voted "Most Valuable Player" of the hockey squad for the second consecutive year. Roman Dziatkowicz, a former leading scorer with North York was the winner of the Labatt Cup for the most Star Selections and also voted the Stinger "Big Play Man" of the year. Mike Elwood, former St. Mike's Jr. was named the "Best Defensive Player" and won the Annual Senior award, presented to outstanding graduating players. Burrows and Walker were both voted Quebec University All-Stars.

The Stingers captured the Quebec league championship for the seventh consecutive time, and finished third in the Nationals with a victory over number-one ranked Regina and an overtime loss to the Saskatchewan Huskies.
